

Sherwood Forest Coleoptera

Historical and modern species lists and records - First Edition 2009

Introduction to Sherwood Forest Coleoptera First edition 2009

This publication is aimed at providing a record of Sherwood Forest Coleoptera recorded from the mid-1800's onwards and including the latest modern from 2008. This document follows the same format as we have used in the accompanying publication Sherwood Forest Lepidoptera - First Edition 2009.

Since the project's initial conception of a standard Sherwood Forest Country Park Coleoptera list, and as a method of sorting records and transferring them from paper into an electronic format, it has already grown considerably from rather simple beginnings. However, it is still by no means a complete list and it is doubtful that any publication of this type can ever claim to be such. But at the very least, it should hopefully represent a start towards producing a comprehensive Sherwood Forest Country Park/Birklands and Bilhaugh SSSI site list, by gathering all available Coleoptera records together in one document.

This is the first edition of this project and includes traceable public records, those held privately by some local naturalists and our thanks go to those individuals who have provided their records for inclusion.

There are two lists produced, including a full site species list which has been compiled from various sources and includes the historical records sourced from J.W. Carr's book "The Invertebrate Fauna of Nottinghamshire" published in 1916.

Included records and recording boundaries

The central geographical location for records included within this edition, is the area of Sherwood Forest which constitutes the Sherwood Forest Country Park. This is part of the much larger area of Sherwood Forest known as Birklands and Bilhaugh SSSI. We have not included records which are known to have originated from the adjacent Birklands West and Ollerton Corner SSSI, or records from the Buck Gates and Proteus Square areas of the Thoresby Estate.

With a view to producing the list in early 2009, we decided that the last date records could be received for inclusion in this edition, was January 25th 2009. Records received after this date, will be included in the next edition, due in January 2010.

Coleoptera surveys and recorders

A number of site surveys have been conducted at Sherwood Forest and despite the fact that much coverage has been given over the last 40 years by numerous individuals, there still appear to be large gaps in the records of many species from around 1920-1960. This means that Coleoptera has perhaps not been as well recorded at Sherwood Forest, as one might have expected with such a notable site.

J.W. Carr's book produces many historical records from collectors active during the late 1800's and early 1900's, such as J. Kidson Taylor, W.G. Blatch, E.C. Bedwell, G.W. Chaster, Canon Fowler and several others.

During the 1960's and into the 1970's, many records came from C. Johnson, P. Skidmore and F.A. Hunter. Over the last twenty years, more records have come from Shiela Wright, A. and C. Dutton and Allan and Annette Binding.

D.A. Lott contributed heavily in 1998 when he surveyed much of the Sherwood Forest area (Compartments A, B, C and D) but we have not listed records known to have come from Compartments A and B in this edition of the list. Both these areas (centred at SK 602 668 and SK 603 673 respectively) are situated west of the more traditionally known area of Sherwood Forest Country Park.

As a note here, some records which are dated as 1998, are probably also attributable to D.A. Lott and were sourced from 2005 ISR data which was supplied to us by Natural England East Midlands, but which unfortunately gave no references to particular individuals. A similar situation exists with numerous records from 2000. At the time of going to print, it was impossible for us to credit these records to any particular individual or group.

Areas of Sherwood Forest were surveyed by M.L. Denton, E.J. Green, D.G. Hemingway, R.J. Marsh and D. Sharp in 2001/2002, before being surveyed most recently in 2008 by T.A. and D.T. Pendleton.

Sourcing records

When we initially began sourcing Coleoptera records for Sherwood Forest, it was originally intended that the list would be made up of records which were clearly given as the Country Park area. However, it soon became clear that many records were extremely vague in determining a specific location and there were few records with any actual grid reference.

Poor record details may not have always been the fault of the actual recorder, but often appeared to be a result of a gradual watering down of the record, through the process of appearing in various documents over many years. Some documents or papers etc, gave better record references than others and there were obvious duplications amongst records in many cases. These we have filtered out during the course of constructing the Historical site species list and records from the late 1800's and early 1900's, hopefully producing an initial standard list, from which conservation organisations, groups and individuals can work from and contribute further records to.

The problem of vague records has declined with more modern recording.

In the lists, records are largely referred to either 'Sherwood' or 'Birklands', both of which apply to the Country Park area, but there are a few records with references to 'Edwinstowe' which are believed to have been from the edge of the forest.

C. Johnson in his "Data on recent captures of Sherwood Forest beetles, based on the Manchester Museum Collection. Unpublished report to Nature Conservancy Council (1990)" referred to 'The Birklands' as the area "west of the B6034 minor road which runs from Budby Common into Edwinstowe", which is effectively the Country Park area, but probably also extended westwards slightly.

Records which were listed as 'unknown' in some documents and seemed to be obvious duplicates of existing records, have been removed from the main list on the basis that we thought it better to only include records for which we at least had either a reference source, recorder name, or date attributable to the original record. There are only a few exceptions to this, most notable being the records for Cryptocephalus nitidulus, which was formerly known from Sherwood Forest, but for which we could not trace any actual records whilst researching the lists.

Carr's book was the only historical reference source available and we have listed all records which he quoted as being from Sherwood Forest, but have not included records which were quoted as Sherwood Forest, but known to be from sites well away from the Edwinstowe area.

List orders

Both lists follow the same order as that produced in the "Checklist of Beetles of the British Isles, 2008 edition" by A.G. Duff, published as a pdf file in 2008.
